Welcome to the Integrated System for Pfizer Investigator Initiated Research (INSPIIRE)

About INSPIIRE

The mission and purpose of the Investigator-Initiated Research (IIR) Program, the Compound Transfer Program (CTP) is to provide support for investigator-initiated research that advances medical and scientific knowledge about our products and that generates promising medical interventions. This global program is open to all researchers who are interested in conducting their own research.

Pfizer support is typically provided in the manner of funding, and/or drug (either formulated or pure compound) or access to Pfizer sponsored Clinical
