

NIHR Academy Roadshow

Friday 7th September 2018

David Shaw Lecture Theatre, Newcastle University Medical School

Session for those supporting applicants: 10.30am-12pm

Lunch: 12pm-1pm

Session for applicants: 1pm-3.30pm

Introducing the NIHR Academy

The NIHR Trainees Coordinating Centre is conducting a series of Roadshows to promote changes to NIHR Training Programmes in line with the establishment of the NIHR Academy which is launching in October 2018.

There will be a two sessions; one for applicants (existing and potential) as well as one for those supporting applicants. This session is aimed at Senior academics, Individuals with leadership responsibility for early career researchers/research funding, i.e. Pro-Deans for Research, NHS R&D Directors & Managers, HEI Research Facilitators and Strategic Research/Funding Teams. Please feel free to further disseminate to relevant individuals as appropriate.

Each session will include details on the following:

- Context of TCC/NIHR Academy in the wider NIHR
- Background to the Strategic Review of Training recommendations
- What we are proposing to change; IAT programme, Personal Awards
- What the NIHR Academy will mean for applicants/ those supporting applicants
- Q&A discussion.

The event will take place on Friday 7th September 2018 at Newcastle University Medical School. The event is free to attend but please register in advance for a place. Lunch and refreshments will be provided at 12 noon.

To register your place for the session for those supporting applicants, please complete the registration link at: <https://forms.ncl.ac.uk/view.php?id=2424082>

To register your place for the session for applicants, please complete the registration link at: <https://forms.ncl.ac.uk/view.php?id=2395254>

If you have any questions, please contact the Clinical Academic Office at: cao.info@ncl.ac.uk.